1st ASEAN CYTOMETRY WORKSHOP

27-31 JULY, 2009

KUALA LUMPUR, MALAYSIA

1st ASEAN Cytometry Workshop will be held from July 27-31, 2009 in the beautiful city of Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia.

The purpose of this workshop is to interface experts in flow cytometry with people who have interest in flow cytometry and routinely use it in their research or clinical practice. This workshop will cover the basics of flow cytometry in research and clinical applications.

This workshop will be first of a series in ASEAN countries and will give a platform for hands-on-training, gaining advance knowledge and discussion of application and difficulties and new ideas. Every attendee is required to participate actively and make a positive contribution by discussing their current research, experiences, and needs.

The program for the workshop is entirely determined by the interests of the attendees and the active participation.

World renowned scientists, application specialists and technologists will be attending this workshop.

VENUE: TECHNOLOGY PARK MALAYSIA,

Lab Facilities:

The wet labs will be held in the Technology Park Malaysia, Enterprise-4, Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia and Institute for Medical Research (IMR), Kuala Lumpur. We have invited Beckman Coulter, Becton Dickinson Guava Technologies and Miltenyi to bring their latest flow cytometers along with their technical staff to the workshop.

Participants:

Lectures will be open to all students of Universities, Institutions, Hospitals and Industry. Participation in wet labs, tutorials and other events will be limited to registered students/participants. The wet labs will be open to 40 registered students selected by the selection committee. The deadline for accepting applications is MAY 30, 2009.

Proposed Venue:

TECHNOLOGY PARK MALAYSIA, ENTERPRISE-4, BUKIT JALIL, KUALA LUMPUR, MALAYSIA

Course Certificates:

Participants who attend the wet lab and pass the final exam will receive a course completion certificate.

Fellowships:

A limited number of fellowships may be available for the students (maximum RM 2000). Refer to the application form.

Registration:

Registration is open for mid-career scientists, clinicians, pathologists, graduate students, industry scientists and technical people who are currently using flow cytometry. Only 40 participants will be enrolled for the wet labs on a merit basis. Registration is necessary for those who are interested in only lectures.

COURSE CONTENTS:

- Basics of flow cytometry and sorting
- Instrument set up, calibration and compensation
- Flow cytometry hardware
- Flow cytometry software
- Data Analysis and Interpretation
- Multicolor immunophenotyping
- Minimal Residual Disease
- DNA, Cell cycle and Proliferation
- DNA and chromosome analysis
- Apoptosis
- HIV and immunodeficiency
- Designing flow cytometry experiments
- Flow cytometry in organ/tissue transplantation
- Cytokine monitoring
- Stem Cell analysis
- Signal Transduction
- Antigen quantification
- Lymphoma and leukemia phenotyping

IMPORTANT DATES TO REMEMBER:

Last Date of Application:	30 th May, 2009
Candidate to inform :	15 th June, 2009
Last Date of Payment:	30 th June, 2009
